Art Unit: 1771

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-15 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-23 of copending Application No. 09/749,318 and claims 1-26 of copending application 09/796,942. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are not limited to a fabric or fiber-containing material, while the claims of '318 recite that the fibers are woven and the fibers of '942 are interlocked. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have formed the structure of '318 and '942 using other well known and conventional materials.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

3. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, it is not clear what is meant by a "two dimensional sheet". Does this refer to a planar material? Also, it is not clear what the first portion comes into an abutting relationship with?

In claim 8, it is not clear what is meant by "causing the second portion to come into alignment with itself". How would a portion come into alignment with itself, wouldn't it necessarily always be in alignment with itself? The structure is not clear.

Also, it is not clear how the second portion of the sheet can be formed without sheet material. What is the second portion made of? If the second portion is part of the sheet, wouldn't whatever the second portion is made of also be "sheet material"? If the second portion is a portion of the sheet which has been completely removed, how can this portion be aligned or "collapse"? The claimed structure is not clear.

4. The structure of the claimed invention is unclear enough that an art rejection at this point is not possible. However, Croswell, U.S. Patent No. 6,412,325 teaches a foldable material wherein the fold lines comprise cut out portions or slots to facilitate folding.
